GULDEN SUTTON PLAYERS PRESENT....

Daisy Pulls it Off

By
Denise Deegan

A dramatic production in 2 acts performed by the staff & pupils of Grangewood School for Girls

A Brilliant Complete Tale of the Girls of Grangewood School, telling what happens to Daisy....

Poor Daisy - out of favour with the second form!

A word from the Directors....

Welcome to you all, seasoned audience members and newcomers alike. How simply topping that you have come along to watch our little play. We appreciate your support, laughter and applause. It really is jolly decent of you.

This production has brought several new members to our group and we are delighted that they have thrown themselves into it with enthusiasm, often resulting in great hilarity! We do hope they will stay, especially if they bring cake!

Daisy Pulls it Off is a wonderful pastiche of those old Angela Brazil and Enid Blyton school stories. So engaging is the way that Denise Deegan has captured the spirit of those novels, with such wit and affection, that we simply had to have a bash at it.

It has been a " journey" filled with trials and tribulations, but, as usual, we have got there in the end and, like Daisy, by being straight in all things, by playing up and playing the game, we have won through. Special thanks must go to Gail for her help, encouragement, top tips and suggestions in overcoming difficulties. We do hope you find the performance perfectly ripping and will return in May 2013 for our next offering...
